Kayak Campers

Thursday, July 31, 2008

Summer campers from the Maine Sea Coast Mission's EdGE program took to the water in kayaks during a recent weeklong kayak camp. The camp included a joint effort with Great Auk Land Trust volunteers for a beach cleanup on Marsh Island in Addison. The group managed to collect eight large trash bags of debris and five tires during the cleanup. The Great Auk Land Trust partnered with the EdGE program, the Sea Coast Mission's youth development program, this summer to provide wilderness classrooms and volunteers during four day camp adventures.
